GATE PASS

TICKET INFORMATION

2010

Important Information for 2010

Ticket Sales

In order to serve the public better, the year round ticket office has been relocated to the Main Gate. Turner will remain a gate access point in the season but will not have any ticket sales from that location.

Ticket Scanning and Gate Operations

In 2010, visitors will notice some new operational changes designed to ensure that everyone at Chautauqua is treated fairly and that the value of our gate tickets is fully realized. The ticket and gate operations have been merged into one department under the leadership of Charlene Heinning. This will enable the cross-training of staff to provide improved customer service. New equipment will allow for improved scanning of tickets at entrance and egress in order make sure that tickets are valid. Also, tickets will be scanned at the Amphitheater for both morning lectures and evening performances. It is important for visitors to remember that tickets should be carried with them at all times. These changes are all in response to a growing concern by our ticket-holders that all people who enjoy the Chautauqua experience should be treated equally and, because all of the Chautauqua programs are actually subsidized by philanthropy, valid tickets should be required.

Preferred Floor Seating For Amphitheater Specials

The Institution offers preferred seating on the floor of the Amphitheater for select events for an additional $15 fee. Every person wishing to be seated in this reserved section must purchase the $15 ticket, including children 12 and under. These reserved seats are on the floor section beginning in the front of the stage going back. The preferred seating ticket guarantees a seat in the reserved floor section on a first-come, first-served basis until the start of the performance. These tickets will go on sale starting April 1, 2010.

Jay Lesenger, General and Artistic Director

Friday, July 30 & Monday, August 2

Cavalleria rusticana

Music by Pietro Mascagni

Libretto in Italian by C. Targioni-Tozzetti

and G. Menasci after the story and play

by Giovanni Verga

Synopsis: It is Easter morning. Turiddu, son of the innkeeper, Lucia, has abandoned Santuzza, with whom he had consoled himself for the loss of his former sweetheart, Lola. Lola had married Alfio during Turiddu's military service, but now is flirting again with Turiddu. Santuzza, rejected and jealous, informs Alfio of his wife's faithlessness. The famous Intermezzo proclaims the peace of Easter, shattered by Alfio's challenging Turiddu. The two men duel offstage, and a villager brings to Lucia the tragic news of her son's death.

Length: 68 minutes (approx)

INTERMISSION

I Pagliacci

Music by Ruggiero Leoncavallo

Libretto in Italian by the composer

Synopsis: A troupe of strolling players arrives in the village. Canio, actor-manager, becomes suspicious of his young wife Nedda when Tonio, another actor, tells him that he saw her with a lover. Nedda, in fact, plans to elope with Silvio, a young villager. They are surprised in their rendezvous by Canio, but Silvio escapes unidentified. In the show that evening, a situation similar to real life is enacted, with Columbine hiding her lover from her jealous husband. Canio, beyond control, demands the name of his wife's lover. When she refuses to tell, he stabs her. Silvio rises in horrified protest, whereupon Canio stabs him also, then turns to the audience and sobs that the comedy is finished.

You Can't Take It With You

by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman

It may be 1936, but there's no being depressed around the Sycamores' madcap New York townhouse. Grandpa quit his day job 35 years ago and hasn't paid taxes since. Father makes fireworks in the basement, Mother happily types away at un-produceable plays, and the oldest daughter continues a hopeless quest for balletic perfection. When the youngest child brings her Wall Street fiancé's tycoon parents home for dinner, the fireworks aren't the only things to go pop! With this Pulitzer Prize winning comedy, Hart and Kaufman take their rightful place among the twentieth century giants produced by CTC.
